

KRISHAN VERMA

"There are 10 types of people in the world: those who understand binary , and those who don't."

About

I am the kind of person who doesn't look at the sky while walking but look at the road ahead of me.

I made sure to include a random cool quote and beautiful icons in my resume but resume building is not what I am talented at. My skills are drawn to the right of this paragraph.

Note: This list is still a long way from being impressive, but I work on it every single day.

As you might have noticed my Achievements tab is still lonely but I'm sure your project(S) would shine in there!
